THE GOVERNOR

Timothy Glasspool

Plum, PA 15239

Dear Dr. Glasspool:

On behalf of the citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, we would like to extend our congratulations to the Plum Borough School District for its academic achievement during the 2012-13 school year.

Over the past several months, we, along with Lt. Governor Jim Cawley, First Lady Susan Corbett and officials of my administration, have visited school districts across Pennsylvania to present the Governor's Award for Excellence in Academics to schools that earned a 90 percent or higher on the 2012-13 School Performance Profile. Unfortunately, we were unable to personally visit each of the 428 schools that reached this goal.

However, it is important for each school to receive the recognition it deserves for attaining this high level of academic achievement.

Enclosed, please find a proclamation for each school in your district that earned a 90 percent or higher on the 2012-13 School Performance Profile.

Additionally, you will be receiving a banner for each building that received a 90 percent or higher during the 2012-13 school year. These are being sent separately and should be received within a couple of days.

Pennsylvania has the privilege to be home to the best and brightest students, teachers and administrators. We share the common goal of providing every student in the Commonwealth with a high-quality, world-class education that will prepare them for postsecondary success.

The support and leadership that the educators, support staff and administrators have brought to your community has undoubtedly created an environment that nurtures learning and student achievement.

We encourage you to celebrate this academic achievement and share this great news with your students, faculty and community.

Congratulations, and we wish you continued success.

Sincerely,

Tom Corbett
Governor
